Nominations For Student Union Made

Lodge's Charter Given Approval

Nominations for Student Union officers, approved at the meeting of the Women's Assembly Tuesday morning after chapel will be presented at the Student Union meeting Nov. 21 at 7:15 p.m.

The slate, composed of terms 4 and 6 students, is as follows: President, Wilma R. Bunce, Charlotte P. Hickcox, E. Ann Robinson; Vice-president, Rebecca E. Fraser, Mary Jane Selleck, Leila M. Taylor; Treasurer, Jean A. Bender, Dolly E. Green, Bettina I. Stringer; Secretary, the two defeated candidates for vice-president and Barbara V. Snow; Chief Justice, the two defeated candidates for president and Mary E. Wisotzkey.

Nominating Committee

Leonore V. Jenkins '44, Jean A. Bender '45, Ruth L. Collins '45, Marguerite L. Romer '46, and Ann A. Argyle '47 were appointed as the nominating committee at the Women's assembly meeting on Sunday night, Nov. 14.

The Charter for the Lodge was presented and approved at the meeting with the added recommendation that further action be taken with the continued cooperation of the Women's college.

War Work

Under the Foster Parents Society for the relief of war orphans the Men's and Women's assemblies and Pan-Hellenic have been cooperating in supporting a child. Janet S. Harris, chairman of the War Work committee, reported that the child for whom they were caring is now attending trade school and beyond the age of needing "Foster Parents." It was decided to raise more funds and continue the war work by sponsoring another child in conjunction with the Men's assembly if they were willing.

A Community Chest drive will be held from Nov. 28 to Dec. 4 and the Men's college will be included in the quota. On the last day, Dec. 4, a benefit dance will climax the drive.

Wilma R. Bunce, chairman of the Constitution committee, presented the revised constitution to the assembly. The changes were accepted. The constitution in its entirety is on page 4 of this Campus.

4 Students Broadcast On WCAX

"America in Action" Is Topic of S.A.A. Program

Under the topic, "America in Action," four members of the Student Action Assembly broadcast over WCAX in Burlington last Sunday November 14, from 4:00 to 4.30 p.m.

They included Georgiana Hartdegan '44, Dolly E. Greene, Hedvig Hogg, and Frances M. Horning, all '45. Rev. Harry E. Jones of the Episcopal Church filled the position of moderator. The program, first of its kind, will be followed by others under the auspices of different campus organizations, as soon as arrangements are made with the Burlington studio.

Short Talks

The talks were from four to five minutes long, and were followed by discussion. Although script had been prepared for part of the broadcast, the last ten minutes were impromptu questions by the four speakers. This part of the program, according to the control man, was most effective, as the listeners enjoy an unre-

Men To Be Guests At Saturday Dance

The Annual Mortar Board, or A.M.B. dance scheduled for this Saturday will again be a vice versa affair, with All Men Broke for its motto, and the coeds taking the men.

Music up until the intermission will be provided by the Black Panthers; after the intermission by the Black Platters (records to you). Refreshments will be served, the price of admission being a mere fifty cents.

Chaperones

Chaperones and guests include Dr. and Mrs. Evans B. Reid, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Edward M. Clarke.

Jean Lacey is in charge of a date bureau to provide dates for coeds, and can be reached in Pearson's Hall.

Tickets will be sold from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. on Friday night in room 344 Forest Hall West. The proceeds of the dance will go into the Mortar Board treasury.

Staggering Number

In view of the staggering number of formal and informal dances which have been planned for the near future by various groups of men on campus, it is hoped that the Women's College will make the most of this opportunity to entertain the men.

The dance will be held from 8:00 to 11:00 in the High school gymnasium.

Junior Committee Chooses Nominees

To Select Officers Soon; 6 Sophomores Will Nominate Officers

In preparation for this week's election, nominees for junior class officers were chosen and their names posted in all women's dormitories.

Those nominated for president are Dolly E. Greene, Charlotte P. Hickcox and Dorothy H. Laux. The candidates for vice-president include M. Jean Dunn, Alice S. Frederickson and Margery Johnston.

For Secretary

Nominees for secretary are Jean Crawford, Dorothea I. Robinson and Bettina I. Stringer. Those for treasurer are Barbara Boyden, Jane P. Cline and Nancy L. Duffie.

The social chairman will be selected from the following: Jean A. Bender, Audrey J. Nunnemacher and Janet E. Townsend.

Nominating Committee

The candidates were chosen by the nominating committee which included Muriel F. Cormack, chairman, JoAnn Allan, Jean Crawford, Elizabeth A. Evans, A. Faith Freeman and Janet Kemp.

At a sophomore class meeting on Monday, November 15, the following nominating committee was selected: Elizabeth B. Barclay, Barbara H. Flink, Marcey S. Lynn, Anna E. MacWilliams, Cynthia J. Proud and Barbara E. Rupp.

Ten Skyliners Are Chosen

Permanent Skyline members have been selected from the sophomore class by the governing board of the Mountain club. John Krantz, Seabury Short A.S., Jane Burritt, Carolyn de Long, Eileen Luz, Barbara Nunnemacher, Ruth Riley, Marguerite Romer, and Leila Taylor are the new members of this body of the Mountain club.

The honor was awarded to these people because of their support of the club's activities and assistance on Carnival committees and for their attendance on all the Mountain hikes and ski hikes.

Men's Assembly Approves Student Lodge Constitution

Boissevain, Undergrad President, Is Welcomed

Alfred G. Boissevain, newly elected undergraduate president, was duly welcomed as honorary member of the Men's Assembly at the first meeting of that body during the present semester. Mr. Boissevain will present a short address at the next meeting, in which he will outline Assembly policies and aspirations for the coming semester.

Vacancy Filled

To fill the vacancy left by the absence of Michael Kolligian '44, former speaker, the Assembly elected Emory P. Mersereau '44 as its new speaker and Peter E. Funck as secretary, the office formerly held by Mr. Mersereau. In addition, the new representative of Middlebury's first term freshmen, Jacob Samenfink, was formally inducted into the men's governing body.

Unanimous approval was given to the charter of the Middlebury College Lodge, officially opened last Saturday afternoon. The constitution was reviewed completely by the speaker and no revisions were suggested.

War Bond

Attention was then given to a rediscussion of the purchase of a $375 war bond by the men's undergraduate body. Such a purchase was considered last year and at the close of the semester but no definite action was taken. The cost would be close to half of the total funds of the undergraduate treasury and has been approved of by the civilian men as a group. A committee was appointed to discuss the matter with President Samuel S. Stratton and final arrangements will be made at the next meeting of the governing body.

In conclusion, time of future meetings of the Assembly was referred to Wednesday evenings at 7:00 o'clock instead of Tuesdays as previously scheduled.

'Back Street', Work Of Bartlett, Loaned To Fine Arts Dept.

In a movement to foster the acquisition of works for study in the Fine Arts department, an oil painting, "Back Street" by Clay Bartlett of Manchester Center, Vt., has been loaned to the department anonymously.

The work was painted by Mr. Bartlett in 1941 and is characterized by a simplicity of delineation and a brightness of color that relates it to the neo-primitive and post-impressionistic schools of French nineteenth century painting.

This young artist's paintings have been collected by such museums as the Addison Gallery, Brooklyn Museum, Bennington Museum, Canajoharie Museum, Detroit Institute, and Wood Gallery in Montpelier. The picture will be on exhibition in the reading room of the library for about two weeks.

Members Chosen for French Club

Rose C. Baruzzi '44, president of the French Club, has announced the new members for the fall term. They include:

Seniors: Harriet A. Bartels, Mabel H. Buttolph, Jean Gordon, Grace A. Wickenden and Winifred S. Witzigman.

Juniors: Marie Caggia, Naomi T. Colyer, Toba H. Gertz, Ann Petersen, Nancy L. Richards and Janet H. Richmond.

Soph Hop, First Formal To Take Place Nov. 27

Ballad Singers To Give Concert

Round Table Program To Take Place Nov. 19

Tomorrow night, November 19, the American Ballad Singers will open the Concert-Lecture series for this semester in the high school gym at 8:00 p.m. Their repertoire will present to the Middlebury students informal round table ballad singing of American songs from 1778-1943.

The Program

The program is divided into five sections. The first, MUSIC OF EARLY AMERICA will include "Ode on Science" by Jezaniah Sumner, "Springfield Mountain," "Song of the Sea" by William Billings, "Deaf Woman's Courtship," "Poor Wayfaring Stranger," "Children's Games," and "Sweet Betsy From Pike."

Songs depicting AMERICANS AT WORK include "Shenandoah," "Cotton Picking Song," "Pat Works On The Railway," "Street Cries," and "Shine On." This group conveys the spirit of the frontier.

The Melting Pot

In THE MELTING POT, third section of the program, various ballads of our ancestors graphically typify the New Americans. These songs are "Mary Had A Baby," "Cooper O'Fife," "Schlof Bobbeli," and "Last Winter Was A Hard One."

AMERICAN LEGENDS are put to music in "Paul Bunyan," 'The Lincoln Penny," and appropriately "Ballad of Douglas MacArthur." All three of these songs were written by Elie Siegmeister, leader of the group.

The last section, FOLK SONGS OF TODAY, we will hear "Upon The Mountain," "Ballad of the Boll Weevil," "Chilly Winds," and "Rye Whiskey."

Student Support!

This concert is being presented for the benefit of civilian and Navy students. To be a success, it will require the whole hearted support of both groups. Continuation of the entire Concert-Lecture series is dependent upon the success of tomorrow's concert.

First Soph Queen Will Be Crowned

Nominations for Queen Will Be Announced Next Week

The traditional "Soph Hop," a semi-formal dance sponsored by the sophomore class, will be Saturday, November 27. Plans are being made for this first big event of the new semester which is to be held in the high school gym. Music is as yet undecided and the price of admission will be $1.65.

A queen is to be chosen whose title will be "Queen of the Soph Hop of 1943." She will reign over the hop and her escort will be her king (The moral of this is: Men—get your dates with sophomores—you never can tell—you might be king!!)

Nominations for Queen

Nominations for queen will be announced in next week's CAMPUS. Every person attending the dance will be entitled to one vote and the ballots will be given out at the door. The coronation will take place during intermission and the other candidates will be "Ladies in Waiting" for the queen.

This is entirely new since no other soph hop has had a queen, and from all reports this will not only be the first formal but one of the biggest events of the year.

Committees

The committees are: Music, Barbara Busing, chairman, Patricia Beach, Dorothy Anderson, Hazel Godfrey, Lucie Suter, Ann Curry, Louise Heald, and Doris Mason. Decorations, Betty Bartschinger, Jean Crawford, Lucinda Darby, Marcey Lynn, Jayne Robertson, Frances Tenney, and Valeta Cutting. Chaperones, Helen Ciofi, Ruth Jean Van Noy, Natalie Fox, and Sherrill Archibald. Place, Anna MacWilliams, Mary Anderson, Jean Lewis, Carol Jacobs, Jane Van Brunt and Marjorie Wight. Queen, Betty Lou Chamberlain, Naomi T. Colyer, Janet Wilson, Faith Weber and Betty Moulton. Programs and tickets, Marilyn Arey, Mary Caswell, Mamie Chianciola and Virginia Cox. Publicity, Vava Stafford and Ruth Riley, co-chairmen, Betsy Barclay, Margaret Hood, Joyce Hitchock, Joan Campbell, Barbara Rupp, Cynthia Proud and Sheila Schmidt. Refreshments, Mary Jane Selleck, Betsy Branch, Jane Drury and Elizabeth Carr.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE WOMEN'S COLLEGE OF MIDDLEBURY

Last Saturday afternoon, the Lodge, new student club, had its official opening. We, the members of the executive council, noticed that the only thing exceeding the attendance were the innumerable and conflicting rumors concerning the Lodge's future organization. It is to clarify this situation that we write this letter, sincerely hoping that it serves to give each of you a better knowledge of your present standing in relation to the Lodge.

We do not wish to exclude women any more than existing statutes of their own college force us to. All who are upperclassmen realize that at mixed functions, the college and common sense, demand responsible chaperonage. This is our most immediate need.

You want to be active members in the Lodge, that you have already shown. Now you must go further. Until such time as we can secure suitable, permanent caterers, to act as chaperones, you will be able to use the Lodge only when faculty chaperones are present. For your own benefit, why not make that as frequently as possible, or at least as frequently as you wish? This can best be done by you yourselves securing the chaperones—regulating your own hours.

Perhaps, since we have introduced to you the idea of a caterer, we had better explain our hopes in this connection. Most of you are familiar with the dining room of the Lodge—that's where those comely girls were passing out the cider and smiles last weekend. It is in this room that we plan to have a self service, light lunch and soda shop, handling such commodities as sandwiches, soup, milk shakes, Coca-Cola, coffee, cake, cigarettes and candy. If necessary, the concession would later expand to some of the other first floor rooms.

Meanwhile, as often as you can solve the chaperone problem, either with or without any assistance, as you deem better, we, and the whole Men's College are waiting to see you at the Lodge. Drop in, read your favorite magazine, play ping pong, meet the new college men, or just chat. It's all fun, and we want to enjoy it together. This is a Middlebury Lodge, and as Middlebury students, let's both work hard and make it a success.

THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL.

NAVY IN THE NEWS

For several weeks now various plans have been discussed concerning the possibility of a separate Navy insert in the CAMPUS. In fact, via the grapevine, all kinds of stories are loose concerning these plans.

This week we give you the facts of the case. It was recognized that the CAMPUS was printed primarily to present news of the many activities on campus. Over and above this first essential for any newspaper, there was a demand for a more informal paper, the primary purpose of which would be to entertain. It was then decided that it might be possible for the Navy V-12 men to put out a smaller issue which would supplement the CAMPUS and be written directly for the Navy and indirectly for anyone else who was interested. After two attempts it was found that for several reasons this plan was not yet ready to succeed.

We need more Navy in the news, however, and there remains this alternative course. The CAMPUS is completely supported by the students, therefore the size of the CAMPUS depends largely on the support it receives from the student body. If support is adequate more space can be offered, thereby making more room for informality. Because the CAMPUS is a college paper and represents everyone, the informality would necessarily be more restricted than it would be if a separate insert were provided, with informality as its key objective.

Nevertheless, if room is needed or a lighter tone in the CAMPUS, there are two ways by which this can be accomplished. The first is through subscription to provide funds, and the second is through contributions of material which you consider desirable. Through your suggestion we can better judge what you would like to see.

If you feel you have not been adequately represented, then let's have your support and aid. A strong Navy section can be built in the paper with your support. Anyone can get the actual news stories concerning the Navy; but only you can give the paper Navy characteristics.

ATTENTION WOMEN

This week's CAMPUS contains a complete edition of the Women's Constitution, as it appears in its revised state. It is the responsibility of every member of the women's college to read it.

Members of the committee on revising the constitution have devoted much time and effort to making the constitution flexible and workable. One of the essentials of student government, especially under the honor system, is that students become acquainted with their governing system.

Because the constitution is being printed this week, the necessity of reading it aloud at the next Student Union meeting will be eliminated. Before you give the constitution your approval at Student Union meeting, read it!

BUY WAR STAMPS

It's the same old notice that appears on signs all over the country—"Buy War Stamps."

This semester's war stamp drive will start very soon. You were slipping last term. You've heard all the arguments for bond drives so go ahead and buy all the war stamps you can.

Don't let the chart on sales fall!

Over Hill and Dale Geology Students Hike After Rocks

By Peggy Burt

Geology is a lovely subject. I mean you learn so much about fascinating rock formations and prehistoric ages. For instance, did you know that Middlebury is located on Ordovician rock, and that far-famed Chipman Hill is really a roche moutonee,—or is it a cuesta—I never was quite sure. Anyway, Geology is the science that you take so you can go on field trips—and you go on field trips—but definitely!

Country Jaunts

These jaunts into the surrounding country begin innocently enough—just hikes across Campus or through the cemetery, where, you are told, even the sturdy-looking mausoleum is waging a continual fight with the elements. And see how the vines on Starr Hall are menacingly edging their way into crevices in the wall. It won't be long now! If you can keep up with the professor who enthusiastically strides ahead and is already delightedly crumbling bits of rock with his pick, you will learn astounding things about the mysterious formation of the earth.

In the course of your ramblings in the wake of this ever-energetic man, you climb hills which you learn to call "hog backs"; slip on moss-covered stones while fording a raging brook to see some marvelous outcrop on the other side; tramp over endless fields of slate in search of fossils, and unwittingly crush a prize specimen underfoot (how did you know that those little cobwebby lines on the rock were the remains of a rare and extinct orthocerus). You also descend into the clammy depths of the earth for a journey through the sub-terranean quarry at temperatures which freeze the blood.

The Cave

But one of the most harrowing experiences to test the bravery of the geology amateur is a journey through the underground tunnel out the covered bridge road. The group assembles at the entrance of what looks like an ordinary cave (appearances are deceiving, don't let them kid you!). The professor gayly invites those who car eto, to undertake the half-mile journey underground to the exit near the road. Blissfully unaware of what lies ahead, five or six of you start, armed with flashlights and the good wishes of the jovial professor (who runs to the other end to help extricate any who may not be able to pull through the last narrow opening). At first the going isn't bad. You can't stand up, but you can sort of crouch and do all right. Pretty soon, though, there's not enough room to maintain any kind of vertical position, and a horizontal one must be resorted to. You grovel—actually grovel on your stomach—pushing yourself along with your elbows and trying to hold the flashlight upright at the same time. Suddenly you thank your lucky stars that you don't get claustrophobia—or do you?

The End

It's pitch dark except for a light blinking in front of you and one behind you. And now—oh horror of horrors—the floor of the tunnel is damp—not only damp but positively wet. As you go on the wetness accumulates into puddles. You can't get yourself any higher from the floor without cracking your head against the roof—so there you are. The practical thing to do is to just slide in a lizardlike fashion, through the water as fast as you can. You're going to be soaked when you get out anyway—it might as well be now as then. How long did he say this cave was—and who called it a cave anyway? Suddenly, after what seems like hours, you hear the person in front of you yelling that he sees the end. But he seems to be having trouble making the last lap—he can't quite get through the narrow exit! With one last tug, however, he's out, and you follow him, landing on your stomach in the open air. Your dungarees are worn through in the knees; your sport shirt is ripped up the side; your kerchief is smeared with mud, and you are drenched through—every inch.

"Now wasn't that fun?" inquires the professor happily.

Yes, Geology is a lovely subject, especially the field trips.

CLIMBERS FIND SNOW, COLD, AND ICE ON SNAKE MT.

The Mountain Club chose Snake Mountain and Lake Champlain for the destination of its first hike this term, for which one hundred and twenty—one-third of them first term freshmen—turned out.

Trucks left Battell Cottage Sunday morning at nine and ten, both returning by two-thirty. John E. Krantz '46 and H. Catherine Perrins '44 were in charge.

The hikers explored the beacon, built fires to dry their wet feet, and had lunch on a cliff overlooking the lake and Champlain Bridge, with the snow-covered Adirondacks in the distance.

Open House Will Show Playhouse, Players in Action

By Ruth Collins

"Introducing—the Playhouse—new facts for all on behind-the-scenes-and footlights production!" With this welcome, the Middlebury College Players will hold an Open House on Saturday afternoon, November 20 from 2.30 to 5.00 p.m. Members of the college and faculty are invited to get acquainted with the work that lies behind the colorful finished products given during the semester.

Original Melodrama

Highlight of the afternoon will be an original melodrama, shown in two different ways. The Players will first give a "backwards" performance, when the actors will be heard and not seen, while the production committees go to work. They will show the electrician switching the spotlights; the properties committee's off-stage stand, ready to add an extra table to the set; the sound effects group setting the record to give the audience the impression of a rumbling car; the make-up committee pencilling the lines of toil which will show an actor as an old man on the stage; the stage manager giving the signal for the final curtain call. Then, the situation reverses itself, the complete set will be before the audience, and the dramatists will give a full view of their melodrama.

Members in Costume

Each member of the Players will receive their guests in full costume and make-up as if they were ready to step into a role. During the Open House, they will give demonstrations and exhibitions of the work of the production committees, and explain the history of the Playhouse. Volunteers from the audience will take part in the make-up demonstration, which will transform college students to haggard old maids, sinister butlers, and dashing men-about-town.

The Playhouse will be open for inspection—in fact, the Players left their Cinderella rôles last Saturday afternoon, jumped into overalls, and scrubbed the Playhouse to prepare for the Open House "scrutiny." Refreshments will be served, all are welcome—so come and learn how "it ticks."

New Assistant

Kathrine Kurtz has assumed the duties as assistant to Mr. Erie T. Volkert of the Drama department. Miss Kurtz, a graduate of Middlebury, received her B.A. degree in the spring of '43.

Interested in all phases of production, Miss Kurtz spent many hours at the Playhouse and was the first president of the newly-organized drama organization, the Middlebury College Players. She directed and produced "The Warrior's Husband," a one-act play, given in November of '42. She was production manager of "Out of the Frying Pan," the Carnival play, and took on the same duties in the last play of the season, "Hay Fever." During Senior week, Miss Kurtz was awarded a drama plaque for outstanding work in her major field.

Before taking the position in Middlebury, she worked under the Red Cross as an assistant entertainment leader in the Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island.

INTRAMURALS

By Edward F. Cooke

Co. C, 1st Platoon vs. Co. A, 2nd Platoon

Starting the intramural basketball season off at the High School Gym, Nov. 9, the 1st Platoon of Co. C moved out the 2nd Platoon of Co. A in an overtime game, 29-25. With Joe Brannon spearheading the attack with 10 points, the C boys pulled away to an early lead. Co. A came back strong the second half with Phalen dropping them in right and left to tie the ball game as the gun went off. In the two minute overtime Frenier and Cooke sank baskets for the win.

Co. B, 1st Platoon vs. Co. D, 1st Platoon

In another close battle, the Hepburn boys nosed out the Gifford men 22-19. Having the advantage of height, Co. B tapped in many rebound shots. Hutchins with 8 points and Duquith with 8 points were the high scorers for their respective teams.

Co. A, 1st Platoon vs. Co. D, 2nd Platoon

It was a walkover for Soc Bobotas' aggregation as they trampled on to a 31-15 win. The 2nd Platoon was never in the ball game as Meecham and Bobotas scored high.

Co. A, 2nd Platoon vs. Co. C, 2nd Platoon

The Co. A team got in the win column by a 40-32 victory over the 2nd Platoon of Co. C. It was close all the way, but a scoring splurge in the 3rd period iced the game for the Hepburn team. Rappaport was the high man with 10 points.

Co. D, 2nd Platoon vs. Co. B, 1st Platoon

Co. B 1st Platoon made it two straight as they sent Co. D's 2nd Platoon down to a 25-13 defeat. Handling the ball with finesse and skill, the Hepburn team piled up an early lead and let their substitutes carry on for the rest of the game.

Co. C, 1st Platoon vs. Co. A, 1st Platoon

Two of the better outfits, both undefeated, met Thursday night and the Hepburn team succumbed to a well passing Gifford aggregation by the score of 27-15. The forward line of Brennan, Crotty and Crescenti couldn't miss as they looped in twin pointers. Card was the only man from Hepburn who was able to shake loose.

Co. C, 2nd Platoon vs. Starr Hall

The Navy outlasted a strong civilian team in the fourth period to win out 40-39. Behind 22-9 at the half ,the Starr Hall team closed the gap, but just couldn't overtake the Trainees. Feathers and McGarry with 15 and 12 points were the standouts for the civilians and Geiken with 14 points for Co. C 2nd Platoon.

Co. A, 1st Platoon vs. Co. B, 2nd Platoon

It was a field day for the second teamers as they hammered Co. B, Platoon 2 by the high score of 54-13. Every man on the squad got at least one basket, while Kinneman accumulated 18 points, enough to win single-handed.

Co. A, 1st Platoon vs. Co. C, 2nd Platoon

The first deckers of Hepburn got back in the win column again with an easy victory over the second deckers of Gifford by 33-19. Never in trouble, the Co. A men kept their early lead throughout as Bobotas scored five baskets as the high man.

Co. D, 1st Platoon vs. Starr Hall

The Navy made it two straight defeats for Starr Hall as they defeated them 40-23. Tommy Deem was high man with 7 field goals and 2 foul shots for 16 points.

Co. B, 1st Platoon vs. Co. C, 1st Platoon

Co. B 1st Platoon kept on their winning way as they gave Co. C 1st Platoon its first set-back 48-36. It was a hard game and a close one, but the Hepburn men had command of the situation at all times. Co. B's scoring was evenly distributed with Hutchins getting 11 points. Crotty was high for Co. C and dropped in 8 field goals and 2 fouls for 18 points.

Position of Italy To Be Discussed By S.A.A.-Forum

"Italy's Position in the Post-War World" will be the topic for discussion at the S.A.A.-Forum meeting Sunday night at 7:30 in Munroe Hall. The panel will be composed of Fiammetta Donati, '44, Kathryn Holbrook, '45, and Joyce Mickey, '46. Mr. Samuel Guarnaccia will be the moderator.

Fascism Discussed

Miss Donati will discuss Fascism while Miss Holbrook will explain the present political set-up in Italy and Miss Mickey will examine Italy's underground movement. This will be the first in a series of S.A.A. debates on international affairs.

S. A. A. Constitution

Hedvig Hogg, '45, president of Student Action Assembly has announced that the S.A.A. constitution, which was first drawn up in January of 1943 and later amended in July 1943, has been sent for approval to the national office of the United States Student Assembly in New York city. Upon acceptance of the constitution by this office, and payment of dues Middlebury Student Action Assembly will become an official member of U.S.S.A.

Male Population Increases

Word has been received of the birth of a son, Halcott Pride Green III to Mrs. Boylson Green, wife of Dr. Green, Acting Dean of Men. He was born on November 15, in Porter Hospital, and is named after his grandfather and uncle.

Constitution of the Student Union of the Women's College of Middlebury

Preamble

We, the students of the Women's College of Middlebury, affirm our acceptance of the responsibilities of student government. As college students we recognize self-government as a vital aspect of our college life and education.

Article I. Name

The name of this organization shall be the Student Union of the Women's College of Middlebury.

Article II. Purpose

To further the spirit of unity among the women students at Middlebury; to coordinate and control the extra-curricular activities of the women students; and to encourage high standards of cooperation in student self-government.

Article III. Membership

All women registered as students become ipso facto members of the Student Union.

Article IV. Executive

Section I. Nomination and Election of Officers.

1. The President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer of Student Union and the Chief Justice shall be nominated by the Assembly before any other elections take place and shall serve for two terms.
2. The Assembly shall fix the date when such nominations shall take place.
3. The officers shall be elected by a majority vote of the entire Student Union by secret ballot, two weeks after the nominations are made in Assembly.
4. Installation of officers shall take place at least three weeks before the end of the term in which the elections take place, at a meeting of the entire Student Union.

Section II. President.

1. Any student in the sixth term, in good standing, shall be eligible for this office.
2. Powers and duties:
   a. Shall call together and preside over all meetings of the Student Union.
   b. Shall address all new students to welcome them and acquaint them with the aims and responsibilities of student government.
   c. Shall call together and preside over all the meetings of the Assembly.
   d. Shall present all Assembly regulations to the Advisory Committee.
   e. Shall present Assembly opinion to the Dean of Women, and the opinion of the Dean of Women to the Assembly when pertaining to Assembly matters.
   f. Shall have veto power as designated below.
   g. Shall appoint a Representation Committee to be approved by the Assembly before the end of the term preceding elections. This Committee will supervise all Assembly elections.
   h. Shall approve expenditures presented by the Treasurer.
   i. Shall have vote in case of a tie.

Section III. Vice-President.

1. Any student in the fourth term, in good standing, shall be eligible for this office.
2. Powers and duties.
   a. Shall assume the duties of the President in her absence or at her request.
   b. Shall supervise the part of Student Union in freshman orientation.
   c. Shall be a member of the President's council.
   d. Shall be a member of the Student Life Committee.
   e. Shall perform such other duties as the Assembly shall from time to time prescribe.

Section IV. President's Council.

1. The President's council shall be composed of the Vice-President of Student Union, the presidents of the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes and the Chief Justice.
2. The Council shall advise the President on all matters of student government at her request and shall meet on the call of the President.

Section V. Secretary.

1. Any student in the fourth term, in good standing, shall be eligible for this office.
2. Powers and duties.
   a. Shall keep the minutes of the Student Union and the Assembly.
   b. Shall submit all expenditures to the President for approval.
   c. Shall make a financial report at each meeting of the Assembly.
   d. Shall perform such other duties as the Assembly shall from time to time prescribe.

Article V. Legislative

Section I. Organization.

1. There shall be an Assembly established on the representative principle.
2. Representation in the Assembly shall be determined as follows:
   a. The Assembly shall comprise no more than 10% of the whole Women's College.
   b. Representation shall be apportioned according to the number of each class in each dormitory. Each dormitory and the student group living in town shall have at least one representative.

Section II. Eligibility and Elections.

1. Any member of Student Union, in good standing, shall be eligible for election to the Assembly. All members of Student Union shall have privilege of the floor without vote.
2. Nominations.
   a. Nominations shall be under the supervision of the Representation committee.
   b. Any student may be nominated by a petition signed by five members of her dormitory.
   c. Nominations shall be accepted from the floor at the time of elections.
   d. There shall be at least two nominees for each office.
3. Elections.
   a. Elections shall be by secret ballot. The slate for each dormitory shall be prepared by the Representation committee.
   b. Elections shall be held within three weeks after the beginning of the term.
   c. The Representation committee shall make provision for those living in town.
   d. The Assembly shall decide the term of office of its members.

Section III. Exercise of Powers and Duties.

1. The Assembly shall suggest and receive recommendations for discussion, and shall pass new legislation.
2. The Assembly shall meet regularly at least once each month, and in addition as the President shall deem necessary.
3. A majority of the membership shall be a quorum.
4. The Assembly shall have power to expel its members by a majority vote.
5. The Assembly shall formulate rules regarding attendance.
6. Persistent absence shall be a cause for the removal of any representative from office.
7. The Assembly shall approve student organizations, supervise the point system, and arrange for elections as described above.
8. The Assembly shall have the power to enact Assembly regulations pertaining to all purely student affairs which shall be binding on all students.
9. The Assembly shall have the power to decide what constitutes a dormitory as used in this Constitution.
10. The veto power.
    a. Assembly regulations shall become effective when approved by the President of Student Union, or if she shall return them to the Assembly unsigned with her reasons for refusing her signature, when passed by a two-thirds vote.
    b. The President may approve the regulations in whole or in part, but the Assembly retains power to decide whether veto of an item has altered the meaning of the whole and to reconsider the question de novo.
11. Assembly regulations shall not become effective if contrary to the regulations of the Women's College of Middlebury. After being passed by the Assembly, regulations shall be presented at once by the President to the Advisory Committee for approval.
12. The Assembly shall have the power by a two-thirds vote to remove any officer of the Executive or Judicial departments, provided a written complaint, signed by at least ten representatives, shall have been filed with the secretary Student Union, and a special investigation committee of the Assembly shall have held a hearing and made a report thereon.

Article VI. Judicial.

Section I. Organization.

1. The supreme judicial power shall be vested in a Judicial Council, composed of the Chief Justice, and one representative from each House Board.
2. If a class has no representative on the Judicial Council by the above provisions, the entire class shall elect one of its members to the Council.

Section II. Chief Justice.

1. Any student in the sixth term, in good standing, shall be eligible.
2. Powers and duties.
   a. Shall call and preside over all meetings of the Judicial Council.
   b. Shall make a report to the Assembly at each meeting.
   c. Shall keep records of all decisions made by House Boards and shall approve them. If she disapproves, decisions shall be reviewed by the Judicial Council.
   d. Shall report to the Dean of the Women's College the decisions of the Boards.
   e. Shall appoint the Temporary Heads of Houses, with the advice and consent of the Representation Committee.
   f. Shall be a member of the President's Council.
   g. Shall perform such other duties as the Assembly shall from time to time prescribe.

Section III. Judicial Council.

1. The Judicial Council shall meet when called by the Chief Justice.
2. The Judicial Council shall decide all cases referred to it.
3. The Judicial Council shall perform such other duties as the Assembly shall from time to time prescribe.

Article VII. House Organization

Section I. House President.

1. There shall be one House President for each dormitory. Each House President shall be elected from the dormitory representation to the Assembly by the entire house. Their term of office shall coincide with their term of office in the Assembly.
2. No student shall be eligible for this office unless she shall have completed two terms, except in a dormitory housing freshmen only.
3. Duties.
   a. Shall cooperate with the Judicial Council representative.
   b. Shall call and preside over house meetings.

Section II. House Boards.

1. There shall be a House Board in each dormitory.
2. Membership.
   a. Assembly representatives in the dormitory shall be members ex-officio.
   b. Floor representatives.
      (1) There shall be one representative for each floor of each dormitory who shall be elected by the students living on that floor and shall hold office for one term.
      (2) Any student not a member of the Assembly shall be eligible for this office.
      (3) Duties.
         (a) Shall serve on the House Board.
         (b) Shall act as intermediary between the House Board and students living on the floor which they represent.
         (c) Shall perform such other duties as the Assembly shall from time to time prescribe.
   c. Judicial Council Representatives.
      (1) There shall be a representative from each dormitory to the Judicial Council of Student Union who shall be elected from the body of floor representatives by the entire house at the beginning of each term.
      (2) Duties.
         (a) Attend meetings of the Judicial Council.
         (b) Call and preside over meetings of the House Board.
         (c) Report all decisions of the House Board to the Chief Justice for approval.
         (d) Cooperate with the House President.
         (e) Shall perform such other duties as the Assembly shall from time to time prescribe.
   d. In dormitories having only one floor representative the House Board shall consist of that representative.
3. Duties of the House Board.
   a. The House Board shall enforce hour rules.
   b. Shall take action on minor infringement of rules.
   c. Refer cases other than those involving minor infringement of rules to the Judicial Council.

Section III. Temporary House Heads.

1. The Chief Justice shall appoint temporary Heads of Houses until elections can be held with the advice and consent of the Representation Committee.
2. She shall act as House President and Judicial Council Representative until permanent officers are elected.
3. She shall appoint temporary floor representatives to serve until Assembly elections are held.

Article VIII. Advisory Assembly Committee

There shall be appointed annually before the end of the spring term by the President of the College, an advisory committee of three women not members of Student Union.

Article IX. Social Committee

1. Purpose: The Social Committee shall promote the social program of the Women's College.
2. Members: The Social Committee shall be a joint committee consisting of twelve members. The student membership shall consist of the President of Student Union, the President of Mortar Board, the Vice-President of Student Union, the Treasurer of Student Union and one representative of each class to be elected at the time of class elections. The four members not members of Student Union shall consist of the Dean of Women, the Social Director and two women to be chosen by the executive council within two weeks after Student Union elections and approved by the Dean of Women.

Article X. Amendments

1. Amendments to this Constitution shall be submitted to the Assembly with the signature of ten members of the Assembly.
2. Amendments shall become effective when:
   a. Passed by a majority vote of the Assembly.
   b. Approved by the Advisory Committee.
   c. Passed by a two-thirds vote of the Student Union of the Women's College.

Charter of Lodge Cites Need for Campus Hangout

Since there is an immediate need for some practical plan for a men's club, the Social center which shall be called The Lodge will be opened primarily for the men. At such time as the administration approves and proper chaperonage can be obtained, The Lodge will be opened to the women. Until that time, the governing of the Lodge will be in the hands of a men's executive council.

Council Plans

However the executive council plans to announce certain times when The Lodge will open to the women for various social events which are being planned. Since the opening held on Saturday, The Lodge is available for informal use by the men's college upon payment of membership dues. A Coke machine will be installed, but other plans for serving refreshments are still indefinite.

Ultimate Purpose

The ultimate purpose of this organization as set forth by the charter "shall be to provide a meeting place and recreation center for all duly enrolled undergraduate students of Middlebury College." This aim is one that has needed attention for some time, and it is hoped that it will be achieved as soon as proper plans can be made; however because of the men's dormitory situation, it is more imperative that their needs be met at the present time. Hence inclusion of the women except by invitation will be temporarily postponed.

Executive Council

Membership in this organization will be opened on payment of dues. The executive council will have the power to expel members for disciplinary reasons if necessary. The Executive committee is composed of five Civilian men, and five Navy men. The five Civilian men are Irving B. Wakeman, William Richardson, who represents the Men's Assembly, Bronson Hickox, Joe Webber, and Emory Mersereau. The five Navy representatives are Russell I. Skillman, Albert Pryibil Milton Zalkowitz, R. B. Corcoran, and Charles Williams.

Alan B. Howes '43 is faculty advisor, serving as a connecting link between the Administration of the college and the student organization. He is an ex-officio member of the Executive committee without power to vote.

W. A. A.

W. A. A. is starting off the November term with volleyball and bowling. Volleyball practices are being held on Tuesdays and Fridays from 3.30 to 5.30 in the high school gym and on Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 in the college gym. Practices will continue through next week, after which class teams will be chosen and inter-class games scheduled.

Membership Drive

As a result of the recent membership drive 140 new members have joined W.A.A. which has brought the membership to 300. The dues are now $.35 a semester instead of $.75 a year as previously. Membership entitles one to participate in W.A.A. sports. Also the organization pays one-half of the transportation cost to its members to the W.A.A. cabin while non-members have to pay full fare.

Constitution

A committee of council members has been chosen to rewrite the constitution. It consists of Helen A. Beardslee '44, Janet S. Harris '44, Barbara J. Young '44 and Charlotte P. Hickcox '45.

Santa C. Godfrey Speeds Delivery Of Sailors' Mail

New System to Promote Greater Postal Efficiency

By Hedley G. Pingree, A.S.

Do you believe in Santa Claus? We all must have suspected the workings of that bewhiskered old gentleman, when, returning from morning classes we found our morning mail waiting on our desks. The days of the elbowing fraternity in the Bookstore Post Office are but hard memories to the upperclassmen, and unrealities to the "Boots." Not certain of the actuality of Santa Claus we traced the source of our good fortune and found not one but two such men are responsible. To Mail Specialist Thomas G. Lentz goes the credit for pioneering this new plan, and to Charles Godfrey, Sp. (M) 3/c, a grateful Navy unit gives its thanks for his successful continuation and enlargement.

Arrived Saturday

Charles Godfrey arrived Saturday to relieve the vacancy made by the transfer of Lentz to another station. Charlie is a native of Haverhill, Mass., with an unusual history in the Navy. For he never went to Boot Camp, having learned more than enough from the vessels of sea fishermen to qualify him as a second class seaman. Indoctrination tests placed him as a mail specialist candidate and once more he had qualifications that excused him from Navy schooling. For the Navy learned that Godfrey had spent over two years in a civilian Post Office. Few men indeed are suited to take immediate duty in the Navy without some further training.

Newfoundland Duty

Six months of his time with the fleet was spent on Newfoundland duty, with those valiant little ships that fight their way to our furthermost outposts with the mail. From there he was sent to the Boston Fleet Post Office, where he served as mail attendant for six weeks, at the end of which time he transferred to Mid-

Intramurals Start Basketball Season

Coaches Will Select College Varsity Later

By Hal Judelsom, A.S.

With the summer months past and the winter months coming "on the double," touch football, soccer, baseball and tennis are fading into the background and basketball looms as "the thing for the coming season.

Enthusiasts Flocked

Ninety to one hundred enthusiasts flocked to the High School gym eager to demonstrate their ability, as a first notice of intra-mural basketball games was posted. (Mr. Brown and Coach Kelly are keeping their eyes peeled for varsity material and thirteen men will probably be picked to compose that enviable team.) The Gifford basketeers came "en masse" and are eager to avenge the defeats placed upon them by the "you-know-who" touch football team and as said team doesn't intend to take it sitting down, some hotly contested games are in store for all. The teams will eventually be cut down to twelve men and a platoon, company, or battalion game will most likely precede each home varsity game.

Information to Date

The coming intra-murals will cover a vast field and the following information has been gathered to date: any man in Physical Training 2 who participates in any intra-mural sport that is properly supervised will be excused from his gym class for a corresponding number of periods in which he has participated outside the class hour. Men who are restricted to their rooms for study, will be allowed to play, provided they are in their quarters before 2000. As yet men who are restricted to Munroe Hall will have to stay put.

Coming Intra-murals

In the coming intra-murals there will be an extensive field of activities to choose

Three Women Enter Debates At Universities

Josephine A. Kirk '45, Carol M. Becker '46 and Nancy A. Rathgeb '47, members of the Women's Debating Team argued at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., and at Syracuse University in Syracuse, N. Y. They left on Tuesday, November 16, and will return today, November 18.

Debate at Clark

At Clark the topic for the debate was Resolved: that college education should continue on an accelerated program after the war, in which Middlebury took the negative viewpoint. The Syracuse debate was Resolved: that the United States should form a permaent alliance with Russia after the war. In this debate Middlebury had the affirmative side.

Within the next week there will be a debate with Boston University in which other members of the club will participate.

Men's Debating

The Men's Debating Team will debate with N.Y.U. on December 2. As yet the plans are tentative ones for debates with Harvard and Dartmouth. The team expects to meet Boston University, Drew University, McGill University, Princeton University and U.V.M. later on in the season. Men debaters include John E. Unterecker '44, Constantine M. Broutsas '45, John C. Calhoun '45, and Charles J. Parker '46.

Get Wise Men! Use This Sample For Navy Mail

Are you growing homesick from the lack of home mail? Are you growing suspicious of the scarcity of letters from your "little one?"

Perhaps its your own fault. Much of the delay in the present mail delivery is the unorthodox method of return addresses. Now that the Navy has taken over mail deliveries the possibility of bruises and broken bones in the "Bookstore rush" has vanished. Get wise, Mac! Use this sample and guarantee your mail delivery.

Hubert Chalkwaters, A.S.

Middlebury College
Midddlebury, Vt.

Now that Christmas is approaching there will be a swell in Uncle Sam's mail routes. If your "50 dollars minus" a month permits you to buy Christmas gifts get them in the mail early, and prevent a bottleneck in mail deliveries.

V-12 ALUMNI

Ex-Midd trainees Leo Alperson, Ezekiel Booth, Lloyd Crocker, and Edward Gorence are now working in the dispersing office of the Fargo Building, Receiving Station in South Boston. Dave Stebbins is doing the same typework at the Naval Section Base, Lockwood Basin, East Boston. They are awaiting their transfer to Wellesley Supply School. Wellesley ought to have a good hockey team this year. All the boys plan to try out.....Paul Krause, now Seaman Third Class, is also in the Fargo Building studying in signal school for advance in rating, awaiting further transfer.

Navy Glee Club Of 79 Trainees Plans Program

Under the sponsorship of the Navy Assembly, a Glee Club, comprised of 79 trainees, has been formed and is functioning with Mr. H. Ward Bedford, associate professor of music, as director. The organization has four sections: baritone, bass, and first and second tenor.

The Glee Club, which meets on Monday afternoons, has planned a large program for Sunday, January 2. It is hoped that the Navy Band will give a concert at this time, in conjunction with the Glee Club's recital.

Black Panthers, Now Navy Blue, Still Hep to Jive

Versatile Musicians Play Anything, Swing to Sweet

A renovated Black Panther dance orchestra, attired for the greater part in Navy blue, is once more creating that restless sensation in the feet of Middmen and women, retaining its admirable trait of being able to perform equally well on "jump" or "sweet" numbers.

For their theme song? Still the easy-going, sigh-provoking "I Surrender, Dear." For their repertoire? Still pleasingly varied, ranging from the jitterbug's favorite, "One O'Clock Jump" to the relaxing strains of "Moonlight Mood."

New Model

This new model of the Panthers has its strong point in a powerful rhythm section, headed by Sully Salisbury, drummer, and a member of last year's organization. Helping to supply that strong, pulsating background are Hadden Clark, string bassist, and another of last year's Panthers, Jack Ades, guitarist, and Ernie Barker, pianist.

In the saxophone section, producing a mellow and smooth melody are Mort Harmon, Paul Peckham, Tex Jefts, and Larry Fitzgibbons, who fronts the band, and is a potent factor causing chills to run up and down the spines of his audience with his beautiful choruses.

Competent Brass-men

The brass-men are as competent as their colleagues in the reed section, and include Art Schram, Christ Christ, and Alan Jakeman, who has already caused excitement because of his work Saturday night.

The trombones, most prominent in the climactic "Blues On Parade" are handled by George Merritt and George Centebac.

The vocalist is Marmie Jolivette, graceful and sweet voiced, as she renders "The Story of a Starry Night."

Harmonious Blending

And so, with such a harmonious blending of chords and choruses as that produced by the sax, trumpet, and trombone sections, backed by a reliable rhythm section, and abetted by a beautiful songstress, this year's Black Panthers are, without doubt, one of Midd's favorite and most entertaining organizations.

Chapel Talk

Chaplain James C. McLeod will be the speaker at the Sunday Vesper service on November 21. Doctor McLeod is now a chaplain in the Marines and is stationed at the present time at the U. S. M. C. Camp Lejeune, located at New River, N. C.

Before his connection with the armed forces Doctor McLeod was university minister at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. He is a graduate of Middlebury College.

In his chapel talk of last year Doctor McLeod stressed the need for individuality so that men will not level off their standards to fit those of the crowd. He went on to advocate sincerity of speech, elimination of hypocrisy, and of the language of diplomacy which breed misunderstanding among nations. Doctor McLeod lastly recommended the need for developing a better sense of judgment.

In order to make this trip to Middlebury, Doctor McLeod has been granted special leave by the Marine authorities.

W. S. S. F. Drive To Begin Soon At Middlebury

Included in the Community Chest drive, which will be launched among Middlebury students on November 27, is the National War Fund. William Wimer, a representative of the World Student Service Fund, a participating service of the National War Fund, addressed the student body in chapel last week.

The World Student Service Fund campaign has just been launched for 1943-44 and it is hoped that this year's contributions will exceed the total of $160,000 raised last year. The WSSF drive is now a participating service of the National War Fund which unifies all national appeals.

Prisoners of War

Work of the student relief agency extends over many fields. American prisoners of war in Germany are receiving books in camps and since 1941 this same program has been carried on for prisoners of war of other nationalities as well, under the provisions of the Geneva Convention of 1929.

In still other parts of the world the WSSF is extending its help. Chinese students who have been uprooted from their universities and who have gone hundreds of miles on foot into the heart of China's hinterland (where schools have migrated) are given travel aid, grants of food, work relief, and medical care. In America those of Japanese ancestry and war victims are also being aided.

Broadcasters Discuss Plans For Post-War

hearsed program more than one which is just read.

Miss Greene started the discussion with a talk on Demobilization. She told of the large numbers of men who would be coming home after the war, and of the problem of unemployment, far larger than that of the last war, which would confront us. With the cessation of fighting, reconversion will begin, and with it the buying power of the people will grow less. But, because forces are widely dispersed, there will be only a gradual return to the United States, and a Federal agency may help to stagger employment. There will be public works, more industrial equipment, and the supplying of goods to the rest of the world, all of which will absorb manpower.

Miss Hartdegan, the second speaker, spoke on Education. She emphasized the situation in the rural schools, and spoke of teachers' salaries, which range from $200 to $2,500 a year. She said that the standards of New York and California were exceptionally high in regard to qualities of teachers.

Education in relation to juvenile delinquencies was another point she made. Because of lack of playgrounds and Boys' Clubs, it is high, as exemplified in New York City.

High Standard

The object of this, she explained, is to get the highest possible standard of living for most of the people. Basic to this achievement is the "cradle to grave" system. To start, medicine and health care, given by Federal Health Insurance, Extended Clinics, as well as private practice, are necessary, as is education. This should be given aid by Federal grants in aid, and Federal scholarships acceptable at any institute of higher learning.

Political Thinking

Miss Horning, the last speaker, talked on Political Thinking. She approved a World Federation, and said that now was the time people should begin not only to think about it, but to write their Congressmen of their ideas and opinions. In a Gallup Poll taken in 1942, 74% of the people in the United States were found to be in favor of an international police force, and yet nothing has been done about it. This example served to show the importance of communicating one's own opinion.

Miss Horning warned against isolationists, a few of whom are still left. It is they we must watch out for, or else chances for a World Federation will become less.

S.A.A. Advances Members, Begins Drive for More

Organized to Discuss Facts and Air Opinions

Membership drive of the Student Action Assembly was opened this week as the organization laid its plans for the new semester. Previous members who have earned by service the right to advanced membership in the S.A.A. have been named by the executive council and are entitled to the privileges earned during the ensuing semester.

The Student Action Assembly is a comparatively new organization which grew out of student interest in current and post-war political, social, and economic problems. In weekly discussion meetings the opportunity is given for both the dissemination of fact and the airing of opinion.

Members of a student panel open each meeting with brief discussions of various aspects of the topic under discussion for the evening, providing facts and figures to support their views. The meeting is then thrown open to general discussion, into which all present are invited to join. The entire program is under the supervision of a faculty moderator.

These weekly discussion groups are open to all without any stipulations of membership. Only members of the S.A.A., however, may be a member of a panel and thus gain the valuable opportunity of working informally with members of the faculty and with townspeople. Contact with the Middlebury high school is also afforded by means of joint school discussion groups.

A new feature of the S.A.A. in which only members may participate is a series of broadcasts over Station WCAX in Burlington on Sunday afternoons. On these programs Middlebury students will present panel discussions of current topics similar to the campus weekly discussions.

A student of the College, either civilian or Navy, may become a member of S.A.A. by enrolling to serve on either

Cinderella to Test Playhouse Talents

Spectacular Production Slated for Dec. 3 and 4

By Eleanor Drake

The whole town is talking about the Playhouse production of "Cinderella" to be given December 3 and 4. And no wonder it is the topic of conversation! "Cinderella" is a fairy story, and fairy stories are spectacular, and spectacles are spectacles only because people of all sizes and ages are ready, willing, and able to pour their imagination and wit into one big melting pot, stir to the proper consistency. and mold into a flawless finished product. And thus it is that College students, high school students, Mr. Healy's special students, and the Parent Teachers' Association will combine their efforts to bring to all of Middlebury, town and college alike, one of the biggest and best performances in the history of College drama.

Bill is Conniving

According to one time-worn adage, "seeing is believing," but Bill Gouert, Head of the Construction committee, promises to fool the public, as he is already conniving to create Cinderella's pumpkin carriage drawn by six white mice. In addition, he is training his magic hand to pull from his sleeve in a split second, the real carriage which Cinderella steps into to go to the ball. But all of the posers are not in the Construction department. Cinderella herself has to learn the secrets of a quick-change artist, for one moment she is in satins and lace, lo!—the clock strikes twelve, and the next moment she is in nothing but rags!

Cinderella Has Visions

Now, all would be well, but for one thing—Cinderella has visions. The appearance of her fairy godmother will require a spot of the "Blithe Spirit" technique. The fairy godmother's success then, will depend on the ingenuity and resourcefulness of the College Player's lighting crew.

After all of the technicians and crews

"Snow Stuff"

The above picture will be readily recognizable to students who were here at Middlebury last year. To the newer students, especially those hailing from Kentucky or Georgia, a brief explanation may prove helpful.

It is an authentic photograph, taken with a Brownie Snow Camera (Film XXPQX-2) at a distance of ten feet, and shows Adago Hallbut, popular captain of last year's ski team, leading a group of coeds through the indispensable tunnel between Munroe and Hepburn Halls, which is dug every year by the men's college.

The film, unfortunately, was not sensitive enough to show the coeds clearly through the blinding blanket of snow, but there are six of them burrowing industriously up in the left hand corner of the picture.

As you have undoubtedly heard, the snowfall at Middlebury is quite heavy each year, usually rising some eighteen to twenty feet from the ground. (In the famous "blizzard of '88," we had thirty-five feet of snow, but in recent years there has never been more than twenty-three feet of snow except in the mountains.)

In 1935, Buddy's Ski Shop first offered its famous "snow-burrowers" for sale. These are especially made, derrick-like contraptions of wood and leather which fit over the head and shoulders, and act as a large mouth, biting into the snow, and digesting it, affording the wearer a ready passage through the otherwise impenetrable snow-banks. Navy men may see how they work by asking any coed to demonstrate hers. Buddy informs us that he has just gotten in 500 new "snow burrowers" to accommodate the V-12 unit. They are priced very reasonably.

The first snowfall, which came last Tuesday, was of course, quite mild. The first one always is. But by the end of November, we will undoubtedly have five feet of snow, and around Christmas time, the men's college will have to get busy digging the numerous tunnels through the snow so that people may get from dormitories to classes.

The engineering drawing classes will soon begin to plan these tunnels, and also one from the campus to Main Street. This tunnel to the town is always the biggest project. Townspeople start burrowing from the Middlebury Inn, and the college boys start at the Warner Science Building. The two groups generally meet somewhere in the vicinity of Swanson's. One year, the townspeople miscalculated, and ended up in Bristol, but recently no one has gone any farther astray than the Otter Creek.

of the two committees which make up the organization. The discussion group committee works jointly with the Women's Forum to plan programs of the weekly meetings, while the contacts committee maintains relations with similar organizations in other colleges. A membership fee of twenty-five cents a semester is charged.

The following student members of S.A.A. have earned advanced standing for this semester: Dorothy M. Compton '45, Elizabeth Gartner '45, Ann daLaux '46. Students already in advanced standing who will continue in that position this semester are as follows:

Dorothy E. Brown, Georgianna Hartdegen '44, Mary-Louise Koehler '44, Marjorie K. Palmer '44, Barbara P. Abel '45, Nona M. Fife '45, Hedvig C. Hogg '45, Kathryn A. Holbrook '45, Phyllis Hopkins '45, Jane I. Teague '45, Janet E. Townsend '45, and Barbara V. Snow '46.

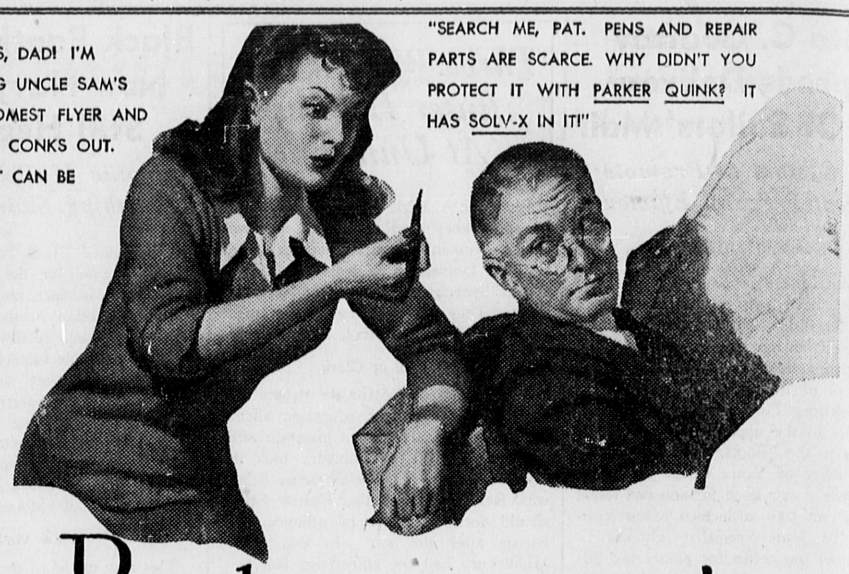
from and, as Ensign Hanley is the supervisor of the entire program, you can be sure that a grand job will be done at providing all men with the sport that interests them and that, once they find that sport, they will be given all available instruction and every opportunity to improve themselves. Seeing that the program will be properly carried through is the responsibility of Mr. Brown, Middlebury Athletic Director. Mr. Kelly, aside from his coaching duties, is in charge of the scheduling of the games and events and is taking care of the details that may arise (and there will be plenty).



"JEEPERS, DAD! I'M WRITING UNCLE SAM'S HANDSOMEST FLYER AND MY PEN CONKS OUT. THINK IT CAN BE FIXED?"
"SEARCH ME, PAT. PENS AND REPAIR PARTS ARE SCARCE. WHY DIDN'T YOU PROTECT IT WITH PARKER QUINK? IT HAS SOLV-X IN IT!"

Pen shortage grows!

To keep your pen writing...use Quink with solv-x!

DON'T expect to replace your pen if it fails now! Production of all pens—especially of first-choice brands—has been sharply reduced by Government order. Repair parts, too, are scarce!

Why not let Parker Quink provide the "ounce of prevention"? This ink alone has the magic ingredient, solv-x. Solv-x roots out the causes of most pen failures. It fights off the metal corrosion and rubber rot always caused by highly acid ink. It ends clogging and gumming . . . cleans your pen as it writes!

For steel pens, too, Quink is ideal. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, and Toronto, Canada.
